

The Eyemonger

Written by
Daniel J Solove
Illustrated by
Ryan D Beckwith

Questions for Discussion

1. How would the Eyemonger make you feel if he watched you all day?

5. Is it wrong to hide secrets?

2. What are some examples of things that people might want to keep secret?

6. Why do people keep secrets?

3. What are some examples of things that should not be kept secret?

4. Should everybody know everything about you?

What Is Privacy?

Privacy involves respecting people's wishes to keep some things to themselves.

Privacy involves respecting your own boundaries around how much information you share and the boundaries of others.

Useful Things to Know About Privacy

- ▶ Online, there are many hidden Eyemongers – people and companies that might be watching you and gathering information about you.
- ▶ Think about other people's feelings before you share information about them.
- ▶ It is okay to share more information with people you know and trust, such as your parents and teachers.

